Clermont Auvergne INP Mobility Inclusion Charter

Clermont Auvergne INP is committed to promoting a culture of inclusion and respect for all members of its academic community. We believe that diversity and plurality of perspectives are important assets for our institution, and we are working to create an open, welcoming and safe environment for all.

Our Inclusion Charter aims to ensure that all members of our academic community are treated fairly and with respect, regardless of their origin, gender, religion, sexual orientation, age, disability or any other characteristic protected by law.

We also believe that international academic mobility is an essential aspect of the university experience. We are committed to providing equal opportunities for all students and staff to participate in exchange programs and research opportunities abroad. We encourage all members of our academic community to explore opportunities for international academic mobility and to take full advantage of them.

Equity in international mobility is a key issue in ensuring that all students have access to global opportunities for learning and professional growth, regardless of their socio-economic background, location, financial status or health condition. By encouraging equity in international mobility, Clermont Auvergne INP fights inequality, opens doors for all members of the academic community, promotes social and cultural inclusion, and contributes to building a more diverse and connected world.

We are committed to taking measures to prevent any form of discrimination, harassment, sexual harassment or gender-based harassment on campus, and to dealing promptly and effectively with any reports. We are also committed to implementing awareness-raising programs for members of our academic community on issues of inclusion and diversity.

Through this Inclusion Charter, Clermont Auvergne INP is committed to creating an environment that is respectful, inclusive and open to diversity for all members of our academic community.
